

Thomas Yu

650.918.7153 | tjyu3@illinois.edu
thomasjyu.me | Github: tommypacker

EDUCATION

---

University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign

BS in Computer Science 2019: 3.73 GPA

- CS173 - Discrete Structures
- CS225 - Data Structures
- CS196 - Honors
- CS361 - Probability in CS

CS EXPERIENCE

---

Skills:

Android Development, Java, Python, Swift, iOS Development, Objective-C, Javascript

HackIllinois Official Android App [Winter 2015 - Present]

- Lead developer for the HackIllinois 2016 Android app
- App features a scavenger hunt that participants will complete for prizes

Fontster [Spring 2015 - Present]

- Collaborator: Android App that allows users to switch the default theme on their phones
- Has grossed over 130,000 downloads on the Google Play Store

BearTracks [Summer 2015 - Present]

- Team Management App for Robotics Team (Developed both Android and iOS apps)
- Mimics the functionality of Google Calendar, Team Snap, and Signup Genius

Fantasy Football Projector [Fall 2015]

- Python app that predicts how well fantasy football players will do based on Twitter responses
- Utilizes Twitter API, Alchemy API (NLP Library), and D3.js visualization

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

---

Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) [Fall 2015 - Present]

- SIGIR- Information Retrieval interest group
- SIGCHI (Lead Mobile Developer) – Interactive computing systems for human use
- HackIllinois – Illinois' annual Hackathon

FRC Robotics Team (Team 766) [2012-2015]

- 2015 President: In charge of decision making, planning process, and team communication
- 2015 Co-lead of electronics team: Helped design schematic of the robot's electronic components
- 2014 Co-lead of CAD team: Helped design the 2014 robot that won the Sacramento Regional

WORK HISTORY

---

Wizbots

Summer Assistant 2015

- Taught Kids how to program LEGO NXTs and build complex structures